

Elizabeth Pogge

Elizabeth Pogge, PharmD, MPH, BCPS, BCGP, FASCP, FAzPA, is an ambulatory care pharmacist that specializes in cardiology. She currently is a Professor at Midwestern University College of Pharmacy—Glendale (CPG) and a clinical pharmacist at Cardiac Solutions in Peoria, Arizona. Her interests include preceptor development, geriatrics, education, and cardiology. Her research interests include the scholarship of teaching and learning, cardiology, and lifestyle modification. She has provided over 50 national and regional presentations at a variety of meetings including ASHP summer meeting, ASHP NPPC, APhA Annual, AACP Annual, ASCP Annual, and AzPA Annual. She has spoken on precepting topics at multiple of these meetings and has performed research on preceptor development.